Pat San Soucie

"Stirring the Watercolor Pot"

A 5-Day, Mixed Media Workshop - All Skill Levels

September 21-25, 2009, 9am-4pm

Pat San Soucie is a signature member of AWS and NWS and a very popular artist and instructor. Her work as a painter has been collected by museums, individuals and art enthusiasts worldwide. She has taught classes internationally and many of her paintings have been published in books and catalogs from distinguished exhibitions.

Jurying shows and teaching workshops has been an adjunct to her activities with the paintbrush and pencil in her home studio. With a sense of awe for each show she is asked to jury, she knows she will find new inspirations and approaches from the submitted work. Always coming away with a new sense of enrichment to share with students in her workshops.

Pat San Soucie creates watermedia paintings in a unique style by pouring pigments through filters, yielding abstract textures, shapes and color. In this workshop Pat will share with you these techniques that have brought her so much praise and recognition.
